This Award was created in 2013 in honour of Richard J. Scott, former Chief Justice of Manitoba, and is awarded annually to a person who promotes the rule of law through advocacy, writing or education.

Mr. Simmonds is recognized for his dedication to the rule of law, exhibited through the advancement of the rights of his clients before all levels of court in Manitoba and in the Supreme Court of Canada. He has also made significant contributions to legal education and the enhancement of advocacy skills by sharing his knowledge in the legal profession through teaching, legal research and writing.
